VALLES DE CAFAYATE

MALBEC 2018

CAFAYATE VALLEY

We were searching for freshness and silky tannins, while preserving the features of the fruit from Cafayate. This vineyard is located at 1900 meters above sea level on the Western hillside of the Cafayate Valley within the San Luis revine. The vineyard has intrusive granite rock soil. Vallisto Malbec expresses this place with freshness and elegance.

VINEYARDS: The vineyards grow on rich loamy soils with a deep rocky subsoil, on the Western slope of Mount Punta Alta, which protects them from excessive sun exposure. Standing at more than 1,900 metres above sea level, the vineyard benefits from the coolness afforded by high altitudes, even during heat waves.

WINEMAKING: The grapes were hand picked in 20 kg baskets. The wine is fermented with native yeasts. We naturally let the wine finish malolactic fermentation. Then, 50% free run wine is aged for 12 months, using 225 and 500 liter French barrels hand crafted with oak from the Allier forest with a very soft toast. The other 50% of the wine is aged in concrete vats, also for 12 months.
